Passport coaching and consulting was founded in 1993, by Janie Wilson and Mary Maybin. We are a vibrant and creative business based in London and Bristol but working across the UK and internationally.

We link to a network of coaches, consultants and businesses and our focus is on supporting people through times of transition and change.

We offer a holistic and life skills focused approach to life and career scoping that includes

- career, life and business development coaching for undergraduates, graduates and postgraduates
- 'early years of employment' support for postgraduates
- programmes and consultancy for Employers who want to provide support for new graduates in their business or who want to enable existing managers to effectively support and develop their new graduates.
